The exhibit dates are January 5 through February 2, 2013.

Village Gallery of Arts - January Happenings

Featured Artist: January 8 - February 2

Don't miss Kat McCullough's fiber art, which will be on display this month. Although her interests run from oils, acrylics, and paper collage, McCullough has been working in fiber the last several years, enjoying its "endless variations of color, shape and line." McCullough cites Paul Klee, Georgia O'Keeffe, Hannah Hoch, Romare Bearden and Wolf Kahn as a few of the many artists she admires.

Classes: Village Gallery is pleased to be offering two new classes in January.

Lydia Cooper will be teaching a one-day Friday workshop using the popular and successful drawing method inspired by Betty Edwards' book, "Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain." This class will be offered on Friday, January 18, 2013 from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm at the gallery and is open to ages 16 to adult. Cost: $30

Chris Keylock Williams will be teaching "Hearing Your Painting," a five-week painting course offered at the gallery on Tuesdays. Morning and afternoon sessions are available. All levels welcome.

Danny Rodriguez will be returning to the gallery in January to teach Turkish Marbling on Paper. This is a great opportunity to learn the techniques of this ancient art form. All levels, ages 16 to adult. Saturday, January 19, 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. Cost: $60

Painted Violin Project - Seeking Display Opportunities

The Portland Youth Philharmonic is participating in a Painted Violin Project this spring. They are looking for venues in Beaverton to display these beautiful works of art before they are auctioned off at their annual fundraiser in April. Google search Painted Violin Project for examples of these artful masterpieces. The dates for display in Beaverton are

March 11-25. Approximately five violins will be in search of a temporary home during this time. If you are a business, art gallery, or just have a secure space that could use some beautiful temporary art, please contact Rick at 503.638.0109 or parfrey@msn.com for more details.
