ISing Choir Seeking Local Vocal Talent

ISing Choir, a Beaverton based choir with a mission to share innovative and exceptional choral music while supporting local non-profit organizations, is searching for individuals interested in donating their time and vocal talents to our amazing choral community. There are spaces open in all vocal sections. We do not audition, however we do have orientation and voicing sessions. If you are interested, email Mollie Williams, manager@isingchoir.org for application and more information.
