After 30 years the Beaverton Visual Arts Showcase has re-emerged as an even more dynamic event now known as Beaverton Arts Mix! (BAM!). BAM! features a wider array of artistic media, an outdoor "Quick Draw," several children's art activities, an Oregon Humanities Conversation Project talk and the Beaverton Civic Theatre's production of "Into the Woods."

Free Opening Night Public Gala: Saturday, October 4 from 7-8:30 PM complete with wine, appetizers and musical performance by Rio con Brio!

We hope you will join us at the Beaverton City Library from Oct. 4-12 for BAM! to view the artwork, meet the artists, and take your favorite artwork home with you!

James Lapine and Stephen Sondheim take everyone's favorite Brothers Grimm characters and bring them together for a modern classic. The story follows a Baker and his wife who wish to have a child, Cinderella who wishes to attend the King's Festival, and Jack who wishes his cow would give milk. When the Baker and his wife learn that they cannot have a child because of a Witch's curse, the two set off on a journey to break the curse. Everyone's wish is granted, but the consequences of their actions return to haunt them later with disastrous results.

Free Oregon Humanities Conversation Project: “The Art of the Possible: Jazz and Community Building” on October 8

Oct. 8 event is part of the Oregon Humanities Statewide Conversation Project.

The City of Beaverton and Beaverton Arts Commission invite the public to attend a free Oregon Humanities Conversation Project discussion on Wednesday, Oct. 8 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the Beaverton City Library (12375 SW 5th Street). This event, titled “The Art of the Possible: Jazz and Community Building,” is held in coordination with the Beaverton Arts Mix! (BAM!) Juried Art Show and Sale.

Independent scholar and professional jazz musician Tim DuRoche will discuss how successful community building requires participation, risk, collaboration, and individual voice. He will then connect that to how jazz—an art form concerned with unity, equality, improvisation, and freedom— could inspire us to embrace collaboration in the community.

This program is hosted by the Beaverton Arts Commission and sponsored by Oregon Humanities. Through the Conversation Project, Oregon Humanities offers free programs that engage community members in thoughtful, challenging conversations about ideas critical to our daily lives and our state's future.

Seating is limited and RSVPs are required. For more information or to register to attend this free community discussion, please contact Elaine Worden at 503-526-2299 or eworden@BeavertonOregon.gov.

Music in Small Spaces Presents “An Afternoon of Irish Music” with Eliot Grasso On October 25

Music in Small Spaces, sponsored by the Beaverton Arts Commission, will present "An Afternoon of Irish Music" on Saturday, October 25 at 2:00 p.m. in the Beaverton City Library Auditorium (12375 SW Fifth Street). Tickets are $15 for adults and $9 for seniors/students and can be purchased online or at the door.

Music in Small Spaces is proud to present a family concert of Irish music by Eliot Grasso, with guitarist Glen Waddell. The duo will play reels, jigs, hornpipes and slow airs, while explaining the music and telling stories about how the pieces came to be. His CDs will also be on sale. More information about Eliot can be found at www.eliotgrasso.com.

This concert is generously supported by the Beaverton Arts Commission. For more information or to purchase tickets, please visit www.musicinssmallspaces.org.
